

How to Apply for a Malta Visa from India in A Detailed Guide

If you are an Indian planning to travel to Malta during your holidays, you have come to the right place. This country will provide you with several opportunities such as exploring historical places and relaxing on the beaches.

However, you must get a Maltese visa to enter the country legally. Since it is a part of the Schengen region, certain additional requirements should be fulfilled including an air ticket reservation without payment.

So, read this article to learn about all the details of applying for a Malta visa from India.

What is a Malta Schengen Visa?

The Schengen Area includes almost 29 European countries and Malta is one of them. Therefore, Indian passport holders (non-Schengen nationals) traveling to Malta are required to apply for a Malta Schengen visa.

It is an official travel document that allows you to travel, enter, and live in the target country for a specific period. Depending on the purpose of your visit, you can choose from several visa categories to reach your target destination.

Validity

Typically, a Schengen Malta visa allows you to stay in the host country for almost 90 days (three months). Besides, ensure to use it within one hundred and eighty days (six months).

However, it greatly depends on the visa type you have applied for. The duration of stay gets longer if you are traveling to Malta for long-term purposes.

Do Indians require a visa?

Yes, Indian nationals are required to get a visa before traveling to Malta. This is because the citizens of India are not eligible to get a visa on arrival in Malta or a visa-free entry to the country.

So, it is mandatory to get a pre-approved visa ahead of your trip to Malta.

One of the greatest benefits of having a Malta Schengen visa is that you can visit other neighboring Schengen countries for tourism purposes. This does not require you to apply for a separate visa, as the Schengen region has zero internal border checks, allowing the free movement of people and goods.

Types of Maltese Visas

A Malta Schengen visa is broadly categorized into two types: short-stay visa and long-term visa. However, depending on the purpose of the visit, you can choose any visa type from the one given below.

- A tourist visa is ideal for those Indians who are planning to visit Malta for tourism and sightseeing purposes. Moreover, you can also use it for visiting family and friends in the target country.
- Moreover, a temporary stay in Malta for business-related activities requires you to apply for a business visa. This may include attending business meetings, conferences, or negotiating contracts.
- Indian students can continue their higher studies in any of the Maltese educational institutes after applying for a study visa. However, make sure to get a residence permit as well.
- If you want to work in Malta, apply for a work visa. Before that, ensure to have a job offer and a letter of employment from a Maltese employer.
- Furthermore, a transit visa helps you transit through Malta while traveling to another destination country. In addition, it does not allow you to leave the airport.
- Lastly, a family reunion visa is suitable for those Indians who want to reunite with their family members living in Malta. The host will sponsor their entire trip.

Legal Documents Required to Travel to Malta from India

Indians are required to submit the following documents to the embassy or consulate before traveling to Malta.

Visa application form

The most important Malta visa requirement is the application form. Make sure to complete it accurately without leaving any blanks unfilled.

Passport

Furthermore, submit your Indian passport with a validity of at least three months ahead of your stay in Malta. Moreover, it should have two blank pages and an issuance date within the last ten years.

Photographs

Two recent passport-size photographs according to the Schengen photo guidelines should also be attached to the visa application form.

ID card

Moreover, submit an ID card or a residence permit to verify your nationality and identity.

Proof of flight reservation

It is advisable to have an air ticket reservation without payment before your visa is approved. It shows that you have genuine intentions to travel to Malta.

Proof of accommodation

Documents such as a hotel booking, a rental contract, or an invitation letter will demonstrate that you have a place to stay in Malta. To get your hotel reserved, you can visit RFV Travels and save thousands of dollars.

Cover letter

In addition, a well-drafted cover letter helps you disclose the reason for visiting Malta, the duration of your stay, your departure date, and other crucial information. It is a supporting document that adds strength to your application. Moreover, a cover letter for a visa helps you present your travel plans from a personal point of view.

You can buy a well-crafted cover letter from travel experts at a minimal cost at coverletterforvisa.com.

Travel health insurance

Travel health insurance having a coverage amount of at least 30,000 euros will help you bear uninvited expenses such as hospitalization, evacuation, repatriation, luggage loss, etc.

Proof of financial resources

Your trip to Malta requires you to have sufficient funds to support yourself financially. Therefore, you can submit documents such as a bank statement, salary slip, or income tax return.

Visa application fee

Lastly, make sure to submit the visa payment receipt after depositing the fee to the relevant authorities.

Application Process for a Malta Visa from India

You can follow the steps mentioned below to apply for a Malta visa from India.

1. You can either visit the Embassy of Malta in India or VFS Global to start the application process.
2. Get the visa application form and complete it accurately.
3. Gather all the required documents considering the purpose of your trip.
4. Schedule an appointment with the same application center to submit your documents and application form.
5. On the same day, attend the visa interview and pay the fee. A Schengen visa requires you to pay 90 euros for applicants over 12 years of age and 45 euros for children between the ages of six and twelve.
6. Furthermore, wait for the processing time, which usually takes 15 to 30 days. After that, the embassy will notify you about the status of your application.
7. Once approved, you can pick up your passport on the specified date and time.

FAQs

1. Can I visit other countries in the Schengen region with a Malta visa?

Yes. Indian citizens can travel to other Schengen countries with a Malta visa. However, make sure to visit other states within the validity of the visa.

2. Is it possible to extend a short-stay Malta visa?

No. Extending a short-stay Malta visa is not possible. You must leave the target country before your visa expires. However, you can apply for a different visa if you want to stay longer than the specified duration.

3. Should I buy travel health insurance when traveling to Malta?

Yes. Having travel health insurance is one of the mandatory requirements of a Malta Schengen visa. It helps you bear unexpected expenses related to travel and medical emergencies.